

VDG NVH-1001

Compact, i5, SSD, 1TB HDD

Description

The NVH-1001 is a compact client computer, which can be used as a viewing unit or as stand alone, for storing video content. Ideal for a small video security setup.

The compact, mountable design and near-silent experience make it perfectly suitable for any workstation at any location. With two video outputs (DisplayPort & HDMI), it is suitable to be used with many different monitors. The combination of a 64GB SSD and 16GB internal memory ensure a high speed performance. while the 1 TB hard drive provides more than sufficient storage capacity.
